

Savi Munjal & Vidit Taneja

Married Couple & Travel Blogger & Explorer

Savi & Vidit are full time travel bloggers and explorer . They spend over 8 hours every day penning detailed destination guides, clicking high-quality photographs, answering all their readers' queries and responding to every comment on social media.

They work as a travel photographer and travel writer duo to sustain themselves. Their articles and photos are published in a number of renowned magazines, newspapers, and online portals including BBC Good Food Magazine, National Geographic Traveller, and The Huffington Post. They have also appeared in a number of TV shows on Discovery Channel and TLC Asia. In addition to this they have longstanding relationships with brands, who occasionally host them while we travel. Some of the ways in which they earn money include:-

- Travel writing
- Travel and lifestyle photography
- Public appearances
- Public speaking
- Social media campaigns and product reviews
- Social media consultations

All the money they earn goes back into financing our travels. Some people like to save to buy a house, some like to splash on cars, some like to party, they love travelling.

They work as a travel photographer and travel writer duo to sustain themselves. Their articles and photos are published in a number of renowned magazines, newspapers, and online portals including BBC Good Food Magazine, National Geographic Traveller, and The Huffington Post. They have also appeared in a number of TV shows on Discovery Channel and TLC Asia. In addition to this they have longstanding relationships with brands, who occasionally host them while we travel. Some of the ways in which they earn money include